

Form the past seven months, the Corona epidemic has had a profound effect on the lives of everyone in the world, but the human beings have to move forward. That is why the Government of India is trying to bring the lifestyles of the people back to normal by enforcing a number of rules and regulations across the country in every sector.

According to the decision of the Supreme Court and the UGC, students who are Studying in the fourth semester PG cannot pass without appearing in the examination. So Utkal University of Culture provide the notification for examination of MSW and MAJMC 4th semester in the month of September. As per the notification the examination was conducted from 21/09/2020 to 30/09/2020 in offline mode.

37 students in Master in Social Work and 6 students in Master in Journalism and Mass communication appeared the examination. A separate examination shall be held during the month of December, 2020 (after improvement of COVID-19 situation) for those candidates who are unable to attend this examination.

During the examination, all necessary precautions were taken to prevent Corona disease. The college campus including classrooms, office room, washrooms and verandah were sanitized before the examination and also during the examination. All the staffs of the college were vigilant to ensure that all the rules of Odisha Government and Utkal University of culture were properly followed. Since the students came from different districts to attend examination, everyone was strictly instructed to maintain physical distance, always use mask when inside the campus, sanitizer and carry own water bottle.

As the some part of the campus was taken by the District Administration for use of COVID Care centre, so on request Administration has arranged alternative hotel for accomodation of the students during the exam.

During the examination, the Vice chancellor of Utkal University of culture also visited the centre to see the steps are taken during the COVID period. During this visit VC has praised the centre for conducting the examination in accordance with all the rules and regulations.

At the end of September, Utkal University of Culture has issued notification for the admission of the new batch which will continue till 31st October. As there is very little time for admission this year, the NSJS team has been working hard to achieve the goals in a short period of time.
